

YOUR LIVES

If you travelled once far above
The horizons of the human mind,
You will always remember everything,
From the hundreds of those lives.

One can say: "I remember everything"
The other will only smile.
One can say: "Not a problem, I know this"
The other will ask: "Have you tried?"

We go in this life through everything,
Beginning with the littlest lie,
We are roaming through the darkness
Of consciousness and brutality falls inside.

One step, one invisible barrier,
Lies between us and Eternal Life;
One can say: "I remember everything"
The other will only smile.

The miracles are all around us—
The sunrise and the birth of a child—
Whoever remembers everything
Will close his eyes and fly...

NEVER TOO LATE

It is never too late to change yourself,
It is never too late to begin,
It is never too late to stop yourself,
It is never too late to live,
It is never too late to fulfill your dreams,
It is never too late to love,
All you need is to look at everything,
With the eyes of Eternal Life.